

Psalm 104

(adapted for prayer)

Lord our God, how great you are,
clothed with splendor and majesty.

You stretch out the heavens like a tent,
with the sun to mark our days of work
and the moon for our nights of rest.

Your fingers created the earth
and wrapped it with the ocean like a cloak.

There the ships sail,
and beneath them glide the great sea creatures
that you made to play with.

You pour down rain
which the ground takes up.

You set springs gushing forth in the valleys,
and streams that flow between the mountains,
giving water to all that lives.

You make grass grow for the cattle
and crops in abundance for our needs.

You bring goodness to the trees,
and in their branches the birds build their nests.

Swarms of all living creatures are so many
that they could never be counted.

What variety you have created, Lord,
arranging everything with amazing beauty.

You send your Spirit, and all things have life.

Fill us with your Spirit, Lord,
and give us new life.

This prayer is posted at www.walkdeep.com/prayers

WalkDeep
Helping People Walk with God